Unrealistic and Vague Commercials.

Nowadays, Commercials are far from the reality by depicting the fictiousness of a society. These impractical advertisements either make people laugh or to agitates them. For instance, a wife doubts her marriage because her husband refuses to like her coffee, or a groom to be avoid hugging his father-in-law as he had not used the particular Shampoo. It makes the author questions the credibility of the producer thinks tank, because the only way people view these advertisements are either to have fun or in between switching the channels.

Qno-03

Q1. What can be inferred from the passage as the main goal of education?

Ans The main goal of education is to instill them with basic knowledge and skills. The education is pivotal for every nation for its prosperity and economic growth. However, higher education should be treated as a privilege opportunity for the deserving one and not for everyone irrespective of their capabilities.

Q2 What is the benefit of guiding students in the choice of careers?

Ans The benefit of guiding students in the choice of career reduces the number of "lost graduates", who are unaware of their interest and future requirements. Counselling the students in their interest of field make them certain in their decision and also reduce the number of confused graduates. Hence, guiding the students after high school has myriad benefits.

Q3 Is the only question in the paragraph answered affirmatively or negatively?

Ans The only question in the paragraph is answered affirmatively. The question asked, whether the prosperity of a nation solely depend on just high education. Well the developed nations are prosper because of the fact that they only allow a few student to get enrolled in higher education, while the rest can opt courses according to their preference. which in result succeed in producing the workforce as an asset to the country.

Q4 Which sentence you think to be the topic sentence of this paragraph, capturing its central point?

Ans The topic sentence of the paragraph that captured the paragraph's central idea is that those in true interest in academic and research can proceed with higher education while the rest can enrolled in momentary courses. This sentence emphasis on the choice of interest of the student before pushing themselves in Universities.

Q5 Which sentence looks redundant and out of place in the content of the paragraph, seeing a later addition rather than part of the original?

Ans. The sentence which emphasised on fee structure of the universities is redundant and out of place as it is not coherent with the aforementioned idea. The sentence above this mentioned the significance of choice of interest of these students in making the decision for their future. So, the sentence defining the fee structure is seen to have put mistakenly at a wrong place.
