

20dy, 1st 20 Collapse of Human Rights Regime

Since the inception of 21st century, 'human rights' is the most heard word globally. The fall of Berlin wall and dismemberment of Soviet Union ~~has~~ changed the political landscape of the world. However, the 9/11 attacks altered the dynamics of world politics. The US-led 'war on Terror' has pushed the world towards new realities. ~~that are gradually pushing~~ It has opened up the wave of neo-colonialism and gives rise to imperialist tendencies by the world's political and economic elite. Among this series of political play, the international regime of human rights has been collapsed. Thousands of innocent civilians have been becoming the prey to brutal wars, genocides, and forced disappearance. As far as the case of ~~some~~ contemporary era is concerned, the world has been witnessing a severe blow of wars and genocides around every corner for decades.

For example, forty thousand Palestinians and thousands of Ukrainians have been brutally killed in on-going wars. The people of Afghanistan, Myanmar, Syria, and Iraq are living under the autocratic rule of despotic rulers. Moreover, the Europeans are witnessing a historic and unprecedented wave of racist attacks. This is re-cap of post-WWI episodes of humanitarian crisis. The international political and economic organizations ~~are~~ ^{are} bound to follow the conventional realities on the cost of humanity. For example, the UN, the world largest political organization, has failed to translate its ruling into reality. Further, the economic organizations such as IMF are bound to create monopoly and giving rise of tendencies of neo-imperialism under the cover of economic reforms. In a nutshell, humanity has lost in all this drive of politics and economy and the regime of human rights has collapsed.
