

⇒ Narration Practice

Exercise :

"The play may begin at any moment" I said
"It may have begun already" Susan answered I hurried to the ticket office "May I have two tickets please? I asked
"I am sorry, we have sold out" the girl said
"What a pity!" Susan exclaimed Just then, a man hurried to ticket office
"Can I return these two tickets?" he asked
"Certainly" the girl said I went back to the ticket office "Could I have those two tickets please?" I asked "Certainly" the girl said, "But the tickets are for next Wednesday performance. Do you still want them?"
"I might as well have them," I said sadly

Answer

I told susan that the play might start any moment to which susan had countered that it might have began already. when i went to buy two tickets at the counter, i found out they had been already sold out. At that, susan had expressed her dissatisfaction. However a man at the very moment <sup>had</sup> rushed to ~~sale~~ return two tickets that i immediately went to buy causing the girl at counter to inform me that had been for the coming wednesday performance and though sadly, i still had bought them.
