

Topic :

Pakistan's Role and Responsibility in Maintaining Regional Peace

Outline

I. Introduction

Pakistan's role in regional peace is pivotal. It must adopt a comprehensive approach that integrates diplomatic engagement, economic collaboration, and counter terrorism to maintain regional peace and stability.

II. Overview of Geographical Importance of Pakistan

III. Role and Responsibilities of Pakistan in Maintaining of Peace in Region

1. Pakistan should ensure its nuclear arsenal's security
2. Establishment of diplomatic relations with India can maintain peace in region
3. Pakistan continue to do counter terrorism operations to maintain regional stability
4. Investment in human capital can strengthen Pakistan's role to sustain peace
5. Increase in budget of military for the balance of power
6. Combine counter terrorism operation with Iran to ensure

- peace in region
7. Maintain the role of regional connectivity
 8. Sustain balance between regional powers and global powers
 9. Peace talks with Afghanistan's government to promote stability
 10. Focus on internal stability
 11. Promotion of trade with neighbouring and regional countries
 12. Pakistan can facilitate humanitarian aid in conflict-affected regions
 13. Continue its work for well-being of refugees
 14. Pakistan can act as a mediator in regional conflicts
 15. Participate in joint-military exercises and operations

IV. Conclusion

Students protests in Bangladesh, marches in support of Palestinians, and riots in India might be seen as an isolated incidents. May be historically people might have seen this news from distance and feels like it will not affect them directly or indirectly. However, in today's world, where geographical boundaries are totally blurred, what happens in part of the world is influenced all other's parts. Similarly, in this globalized world regional peace and stability also depends on major countries policy and actions. Among all these influenced players, Pakistan nestled at the crossroads of South Asia is one of them. Pakistan plays a key role in maintaining peace due to its strategic location and influence in South Asia. So, there are some responsibilities on Pakistan for continuity of peace and stability in the region. The role and responsibilities include security of its nuclear arsenal, establish diplomatic relations, and continue to do counter terrorism operations. Investment in human capital can help and strengthen Pakistan role to sustain peace. Moreover, increase in budget of military and intelligence is needed to balance of power in the region. Suppress terrorism with Iran on border can bring peace in the region. Likewise, the promotion of regional connectivity, sustain balance between countries, and focus on internal stability can foster peace and stability. Peace talks with Afghanistan government is also very essential to enhance stability. Furthermore, promotion of trade, facilitate humanitarian aid, and work for refugees advance peace in South Asia. Pakistan can acts a mediator to resolve regional conflicts. Lastly, participation in joint military exercises and peace mission can contribute to re-stability and maintaining peace. Pakistan's role in regional peace is pivotal. It must adopt a comprehensive approach that integrates diplomatic engagement, ~~collaboration~~, war against terrorism, and do economic collaboration to contributes to regional stability and maintain peace.

(Conclusion)

Putting it briefly, it is correct to state that Pakistan has a major role and responsibilities in maintaining peace in the region. From the establishment of diplomatic relations to counter terrorism operations, Pakistan's role is very important for the regional peace. Moreover, investment in human capital, military and intelligence is important for South Asia stability. Similarly, maintain the role of regional connectivity, peace talks with Afghanistan, and focus on internal stability is needed to ensure peace. Promotion of trade can also contribute to regional harmony. Pakistan can facilitate humanitarian aid; work for well-being of refugees; and can act as a mediator to establish peace and stability. Participation in joint military exercises and operations can boost peace in South Asia. Through continued commitment and strategic action, Pakistan can help pave the way for peaceful South Asia.