

A Visit to Cherokee -

The author stated that he could not choose a place to visit during his vacation and wanted an exotic and less common place. His friend ^{suggested} told him about Cherokee and they set off. They went to Qualla Boundary. It was a beautiful place.

With Oconaluftee Village presenting the lifestyle of 18th century and their historical peagent being played on weekdays, it showed the past of Cherokee. There, they went to souvenir shops. The shops displayed different traditional items. They met a shopkeeper named George. ~~George~~ ^{He} told them about ~~him being~~ working extra hours during the tour season and being a woodcutter in the past. He also told them about Cherokee ^{natives} people who used to earn mostly from trade. But they ~~would~~ also use other means to earn during off-season. At last they went to the museum which presented other items of Cherokee cosmology. The writer ^{wished} ~~states~~ that he went home and would ~~like~~ to visit another foreign place.

main idea is picked but you are writing too much detail of the event no need to explain be precis and to the point attend to pointed out mistakes need improvement
