

Political polarization: Governance and Society

Introduction

Division ~~is a~~ ^{hard} ~~causes~~ ^{serious} consequences. So, Political polarization plays vital role in governance and society.

Political polarization efforts ~~governance~~ by ~~causing~~ ~~challenges~~ for government.

It shapes the public opinion and ~~result~~ influences the decision making process of government. Additionally, political polarization causes the political instability in a country. Which ~~effect~~ ^{Affects} economy, security and other issues in a country. ~~At a~~

^{At a social level}

~~Society~~ ~~level~~, political polarization causes social division, mistrust on government and institutions as a result social unrest creates in a country. Therefore these challenges can be tackled by certain measures such as ~~peaceful~~ talks among government and political parties, Media ~~can~~ ~~play~~ ~~positive~~ role to tackle ~~this~~ ~~problem~~ and ~~by~~ ~~promoting~~ awareness among people. Therefore, political polarization has become a major issue in a country that affects the country at all levels. However, this problem can be solved by taking effective measures.

Effective measures are essential to tackle this problem

→ Body paragraph: -

Political polarization causes political instability in a country. As a result, it creates challenges for a government. For example, in the 2024 election of Pakistan, the results of the election were complex. These results have led to the formation of a coalition government in Pakistan. Political instability in a country. In opposition, PTI has more seats. Therefore, when government and strong opposition do not stand at the same page in any decision. This situation creates the bad governance in a country and other political parties shape the public opinion which creates social unrest in a country. For instance, people do strike for electricity bills and some people do not pay bills. So in this way, political polarization causes political instability.