

Precis: 2019

Affection For Children

The author wrote about the modern educationalists who prefer to avoid children, instead of enjoying their company. If someone has liking for children, they will start to obey him without any bitterness. No child appreciates someone's interest in him, nor he can be used as an object to sacrifice. They only give instant happiness. Teachers having love for children always enjoy their freedom. But, other type of teachers always show up with insincere to behave with them accordingly. Education should not be always taken as profession but source of refreshment is also important. Exhaustion of fatigued teachers leads to expression of their beliefs. There should be no rule to treat the children, instead believe in impulses that can be helpful. There is no rationale to love and affection.

Precis words: 128
Text words: 363

Idea is generally ok. Spelling and structural mistakes identified.