for America and its ally allies. India and Japan are growing economies and allies of America and it is responsibility of America to save them from China. South Pacific Ocean has many islands and it has its own importance on the globe. Atlantic Ocean part lies on the western side of the globe and home of super power US and US don't want to take any trouble in its own region then US created a block which is called NATO. Now it's America's responsibility to protect them from threats and made strong relation with them. But here is a player which was called Russia and now Russia and that is a great threat to US and European region and Russia is strong enemy of American's states. Atlantic Ocean block has number of events and examples of global political events in world.

The epicenter of global politics is Dramatically, all these regions have a single epicenter is called middle east and every power of the world has single motive to gain more power and economical independency.

For last two hundred years world powers competing each others for power and money. Every one knows who has good economy and money has power to rule the world. Economy is a main factor of geopolitical ^{Geo-political} relations among the nations. world faced two major wars and both had one agenda and that was power and money. Nations destroyed the nations just for land and prove their powers. if it is social reality ~~people make relations with them who can be strong~~ when we see at international level world powers made relations with those states which had oil and gas reserves. strengthened their ^{Do not write in pronouns form I my me We our us etc} relations with Saudi Arabia which ^{We our us etc} state now China making relations with Iran and Russia making relations with China. These all blocks and their political activities revolving around power and economy.

if it is natural phenomenon ^{Every one desires to supercede others} have hunger of ^{others} and dominancy. ~~Everyone want to grow high to others and prove himself strong.~~

Once president Obama said "Now the politics of warm water. who dominant, warm water will dominant the world." Indian Ocean is a single source of warm water and best trade route of energy and goods. ~~US want to rule the Indian Ocean and made many allies in it~~ India, Japan, Saudi Arabia, Taiwan, Malaysia and Pakistan and formed many agreements of trade with them but China is another player of warm water game and now

China strengthening his relations with Pakistan, Iran, Russia and other middle eastern countries to give tough time to US. it is more example of global politics.

China is also enhancing its China extending its trade activities all over the world and making strong grip on trade routes. It is a great move of China through Gwadar Pakistan to Kashghor via China.

China creating a dragon on the globe through its projects and spreading softness in the developing countries.

To find destinations

It is reality, who have best route have more chance to reach their destinations early. if China has routes opportunity it is best for that. on the other hand

US making trade routes with India and other more countries to maintain its hegemony on the world.

To maintain its hegemony with the w

When a powerful state want to maintain its power on the world then that use diplomatic moves and color wars events in growing states to avoid any confrontation.

US and USSR were super powers of the world so they made lot of proxy wars among nations. it is tactic of powers to engage people in their own problems. US and USSR divided the world into two blocks one was US block and second was USSR block. They used lot of political moves they built many relations with the states for their own interest they formed the governments and dissolved they governments war habit of the global players. Nowadays US and China playing up and down in their blocks and gaining their own interests.

When a powerful state seeks to

World wide political activities of the global players affected the whole world badly.

Events of World War I and II are evidences of global politics. People faced lot of trouble on the globe. All those were for power. Just give the world bad results in the form of Hitler, Stalin and much activity of America. Death of millions of people, hunger and hate are fruits of global politics. Powers protect their vested interests. They always disappointed their people.

Cold War in USSR and collapse of USSR is clear example of global politics. The ideology of Capitalism of US destroyed the regime of Communism. USSR collapsed and divided into 15 states are result of global politics. That event affected badly the self respect of Russians and now Russia trying its best to remove the US to the kingship of the world.

'War on Terror' in Afghanistan is result of global politics. powers' own interest and their harsh activities putted lot of ~~gudge~~ in people of the world. 9/11 was example of that. After 9/11 US made ~~in operations~~ against terrorists in Afghanistan which affected millions of people all over the world. After that the story behind Israel and Palestine war is the story of global power politics. US want to rule the warm water and energy reserves and support the Israel for extremist activities in Palestine on the other side China and Russia want to eliminate the US from global politics they support Iran, Lebanon and Hamas to put more threats on Israel in both activities. The innocent people of Palestine, Iran are facing death threats casualties. The world is silent on their actions no one want to surrender and innocent people, children and children losing their lives.

However, Russia faced lot of trouble in past now that want to rule the world so that annexed the Ukraine in 2012. Ukraine is NATO ally and US want to independent the Ukraine from Russia, but it is the result of that action which was performed by US in 1970s which destroyed the USSR. The tensions of two powerful states directly affecting the people. No one is ready for compromise but innocent people of Ujking and want to sit on the chair of kingship.

All these wars, tensions, troubles on the globe is due to power politics of global players.

Everyone want to rule the world.

You are repeating this idea multiple times
Plz save urself form this

US, China, Russia for power moving the world towards multipolarity. Everyone want to rule the world in any cost.

Making relations, political moves and block politics just for the sake of kingship. But this hunger of money and power destroy the world one day.

People have fear and grudge against other nations and leaders want this type of mentality of the people to fulfill their desires. It is a ticking time bomb which is waiting for its time and the time is very close. World war III is coming fastly towards the nations.

if it is time to take some serious actions to save the world from danger. Everyone is doing its best for this world if we lose the world, How we will rule the world.

world organizations need to take some serious actions against narssist states. Authorities need to form strict rules and regulations against law breakers.

Global players need to think about people's concerns. Implementation of democracy is required. Authorities need to apply human laws on the world for better future of the world. Authorities need to learn from past events, now the time of nuclear weapons and more dangerous situation for the world.

Hence, Global Politics and international relations are just the same for some interests of the global players on the globe. Energy, money, power, and tension connects with power politics and hunger of money. Some nations are getting positive and some negative effects. Those nations which surrender against powerful players gain advantages but which resists and raise voice against powers get more trouble and punishments. But at the end just suffers common man and no one think about that every one think about their power. Global politics is prove as power politics.
