

"If Youth knew, If Age could"

OUTLINE :

1) Introduction

Thesis Statement :

Write down thesis statement

2) The phrase suggests youth and age have unique pros and cons.

3) The contradiction of youth is a blend of energy and innocence etc.

(3a) Youth is both a time of discovery and uncertainty.

(3b) Young people often make mistakes and learn from them.

(3c) Young people are emotional yet open to new experiences.

(3d) Their decisions often favor short-term gains.

(3e) Youth has the potential to drive social change and innovation.

(3f) Youth and the elderly could unite and work together.

4) The wisdom and restraint of age.

(4a) The elderly understand impermanence and build resilience through life's changes.

(4b) Elders/Olders are more wise than youth in the differences of age.

(4c) Age brings a decline in physical energy and a sense of nostalgia.

(4d) Youth might learn from older experiences if they sit with them, which they don't do.

(4e) With age, emotional responses tend to become more controlled which at a young age doesn't.

(5) The Gaps between Youth and Age.

(5a) Youth and elders differ in communication styles, causing misunderstandings.

(5b) Youth prioritize the environment; elders focus on economy, causing conflicts.

(5c) Youth feel restricted by elders, while elders feel disrespected by youth's independence.

(5d) Youth take risks, while elders prefer caution, causing conflicting decisions.

(6) Conclusion