

Recently, Human Rights day was observed on 10 Dec, 2024. Many officials of government <sup>they achieved for</sup> showered praises, upon the work they did for human rights in Pakistan. In reality, we are facing many issues related to human rights, women are harassed, honoured killing, and faced with work place harassment. The rights of Transgender's are violated, acceptance, threats, and safety being denied. In Pakistan, children are forced to work in hazardous condition, even though labour child law is present. Minorities are faced with force conversion, discrimination, and attacks on their worship places. Human rights are violated in the form of abducting journalists, censoring media, and restriction upon the social platform, <sup>which is used to reflect the</sup> which is used to express the opinion of people. These challenges are real and need to be address on the ground. The status is weak because of corruption, inefficiency, and lack of accountability. The public needs more than just statements, they want the root causes to be address. The state need to empower institutions, holds the violators accountable, than will they shorten the bridge between practice & policy, eventually, with time our condition will start getting better.
