

Role of an Educationist.

Modern educational theorist neglect the factor of interacting with children. If you have liking for children, they will consider your suggestion without any grudge. It is unfair to like children for own benefit. Child will never be grateful for interest taken for own benefit. The desirable interest is to feel spontaneous pleasure with children. Teacher with such abilities will be able to interfere with children's without psychological damage. It is impossible for overburdened teachers to show affection. Education is not opted as a whole profession when someone is spending rest of time away from children. The young teacher without discipline results in fatigue, which ends in frustration. Necessary friendliness with rules to control naughty children leads to right decision. Affection is best alternative of rule.
