Draining the Swamp:

Crime rate has been increased in Katcha area due to lack of cooperation among provinces and police. It includes the area of south Punjab and upper Sindh. Recent attack of Rahim Yar Khan cause casualties. Katcha area is a sensitive area which is difficult for operation as it includes land area and lakes. It is a tri-border area which is mostly victim of weak governance and security gaps. The tri-border area of Indonesia, Philippines and Brunei also face difficulties. In case of Pakistan, the three provinces: Sindh, Punjab and Balochistan, all have different governments and their priorities are also different. If Government of one province is not cooperative then this group displace to the other side. This area get affected from weather also. In monsoon, due to heavy rain, law enforcement Agencies are unable to operate. In cropping season, there is extensive cropping of sugarcane. Geographical Enclaves are also another hinder to their operation and maintaining peace in such area. It is the area which is totally surrounded by the same other area ruled by other government. For example

Machka is enclave of Punjab within Sindh. Vice versa Sindh enclave are also
