

Make a précis of the following passage and suggest a suitable title.

I think modern --- affection and tact.

Children need good behaviour.

According to author, modern educational theorists are interested ~~to~~ ⁱⁿ ~~not~~ ⁱⁿ ~~interference~~ with children and attach little importance to enjoy their companionship. If anyone interests in children, they will be ready to respond and accept restrictions. ~~Liking children should not be for personal interests.~~ No child will be thankful for an interest that he will have vote for a country. ~~The advantageous interest is that which has spontaneous pleasure without any covert purpose.~~ Teachers with this quality will occasionally need to interfere with children's freedom. Over-worked teachers cannot maintain a naturally liking for children. The compulsory friendship should have no rules as naughty children ~~are~~ ^{are} treated without rules. ~~Any decision will be right if the child feels that anyone likes him.~~ There is no rule which substitute for love and consideration.
