That familiarity produces neglect has been long observed. The effect of all external objects, however great or splendid, ceases with their novelty. The courtier stands without emotion in the royal ~~palace~~ presence; the music tramples under his foot; the beauties of the spring with little attention to their fragrance; and the inhabitant of the coast darts his eye upon the immense diffusion of waters without awe, wonder, or terror.

Martin Luther:
Vision for Freedom

In his speech, Martin Luther King states that he has a dream that the American nation will acknowledge that all men are created equal. He has a dream that one day the state of Mississippi will be transformed into a democratic state and four of his children will not be judged by colour rather by the content of their character. He further expressed that Alabama, with its intensive racism, will change into a society of brother and sisterhood. In addition, he said ~~all~~ everything will act accordingly and all humankind will see ~~it~~ together the glory of the Lord. At last, he summed up by saying that this is their faith & hope & with this faith, they will be able to work & struggle together, knowing that they will be free one day.
