

10) Role of Globalization in Shaping International Relations and Politics

1: Introduction

Thesis Statement: with the Globalization is the phenomenon on start of 21st century, globalization 20th century emerges as new phenomenon. It diversified the International Relations and Politics by inculcating the new domains and threads

2: Correlation between Globalization and International Relations - An overview

3: How Globalization is Shaping International Relations and Politics

- a) Broadening the scope of security
- b) Integration of societies

c) Cooperation among national economies

d) Strengthen the importance of non-state actors

e) Introducing global governance

4: Positive Aspects of Globalization on International Relations and Politics

a) Providing forums for conflict resolution

b) It provided freedom and emancipation

c) It ensure collective well being

5: Negative Aspects of Globalization on International Relations and Politics

a) weakens the state sovereignty

b) widens the gap between global north and global south

c) Introduces the new threats

6: Conclusion

Keep practicing on different themes/topics

Mature your thesis statement