Make a precis of the given passage, also give a suitable heading" (20)

'The official name of our species is homo sapiens; but there are many anthropologists who prefer to think of man as homo Faber-the smith, the maker of tools It would be possible. I think, to reconcile these two definitions in a third. If man is a knower and an efficient doer, it is only because he is also a talker In order to be Faber and Sapiens, Homo must first be loquax, the loquacious one. Without language we should merely be hairless chimpanzees. Indeed we should be some thing much worse. Possessed of a high IQ but no language, we should be like the Yahoos of Gulliver's Travels- Creatures too clever to be guided by instinct, too Self-centered to live in a state of animal grace, and therefore condemned forever, frustrated and malignant, between contented apehood and aspiring 'humanity. It was language that made possible the accumulation of knowledge and the broadcasting of information. It was language that permitted the expression of religious insight, the formulation of ethical ideals, the codification to laws, It was language, in a word, that turned us into human beings and gave birth to civilization.

Importance of language

Indent the paragraph.

Man has been considered ~~as~~ the knower (homo sapiens) and tool maker (Homo Faber). If ~~combine~~ these two definitions into a third word, it can be termed as talker (logos). ~~are combined~~

~~Moreover,~~ ^{It} it is language which distinguishes human being from other creatures. However, language plays a vital role in knowledge development, religious insight, ethical ideas and ~~inactment~~ ^{enactment} of laws. In fact, language is what turned humans into social beings and gave rise to civilization.
