(Passage)

PRECIS:

The author examines modern educationalists who often prioritize ~~of~~ not causing disturbance to any child's freedom without ~~much~~ realizing the pleasurable experience felt in the company of children. Children feel secure when they are genuinely loved. Especially those teachers who enjoy the presence of children are naturally aware of not causing damage to their personal freedom. Whereas the teachers who are often overburdened may not have a true feeling of love. ~~Not only teachers,~~ it is necessary to be given everyone a chance to spend two hours a day with children for development of a sense of love towards them. Because a wise teacher always knows that the children are not dealt with rules but with kindness.
