

Final Draft

A Trip ^(Title with Marker) to Cherokee

The writer ~~was~~ ^{ed} deciding to select a new place for tour with friend. Finally, a trip to Cherokee was agreed. There they visited a beautiful ^{mountainous} area called Qualla Boundary. That place depicts ^{ed} 18th century ~~image~~ of Cherokee. ~~There~~ the shops were filled with ancient cultural artifacts. ~~In one of the shops,~~ they met ^a ~~with the~~ shopkeeper ^{haverlet} George, who told them that he earns ^{ed} enough during tour season, but in off-^{Season} ~~peak~~ period, he worked as a wood-cutter and lived a very difficult life. Furthermore, the tribe arranges an event called "Bingo Weekend" ^{is} a festival in which various kinds of games attracts huge number of people. Thus, such entertainment contributes to ~~their income~~. Finally, the final stop in Qualla Boundary was ~~museum~~, where Cherokee cosmology was displayed. Then they return back to their home:

The author wished to plan another similar trip when he came home word count is missing basic grammar issues attend to pointed out issue need improvement in sentences and grammar 7/20

Translation

Asadullah

Now a days, in this selfish era, everyone makes their own way. No one cares for others. Neither there is a love nor purity in anyone heart. Ethics are on decline. We are selfish not only with humans but also with our country. Did we all have thought it a while that this country once was full of love songs, now terrorism prevails everywhere. Still it ^(this country) is going.

If we truly love Pakistan, we can eliminate many drawbacks by analyzing ourselves only. We all are the future builders, we should eradicate sectarianism, poverty, capitalism, and rich-poor gap. Together we can shape the better future of this country. Prayed that every individual of this nation and country remains united and starts thinking for this country, because if Pakistan there is Pakistan then there is Pakistanis.

~~upload translation with urdu passage~~

~~or ref of the same~~

~~always give ref or image of the main question which is attempted~~