Title: Greek's Communication with God

After facing problems in life, a need emerged in human to have connection with divine, who conducts all the affairs. Throughout history, people had desire to know about gods. By using certain oracles, soothsayer in ancient Greek decoded the signs of god by analyzing different natural events. Knowing the meanings of dreams and future prediction was commonly practiced in Greece. Yet, there are certain cases when the god directly communicated with human - referred as prophets or prophetess, who have attained state of intense spirituality. The oracles used for predicting future were linked with any of the god. Appolo, Delphi and Dodona were important soothsayers working with the help of Zeus.
