

Essay: Can Science Save Us?

Outline

I. Introduction

Thesis Statement: presently, humanity faces serious threats; however, science plays a significant role in saving humans.

has the potential to play

II. What is Science?

observationalism; practical solutions.

III. What are the threats to humanity?

A. Man can move retrogressively

B. Health hazards to humanity.

• Example: covid-19.

C. Disconnected social fabric

D. Abuse of Technology

• Case in point: End of humanity by 2100 due to nuclear holocaust. (Brian Barry)

E. Climate change

• Evidence: Humanity may also end due to climate change (ibid)

Irrelevant details

IV. Science is the saviour of humanity

A. Science is the distinction of humans

• "We taught man by pen!"
(al Quran)

B. Science has cured once incurable diseases

• Evidence: millions have died due to Malaria ^{before} the discovery of Quinine.

C. Science in the face of pandemics

• Example: Covid-19 with Science
Spanish flu, without.

D. Science has connected discoveries progressing advancements

• Case in point: Works of al Beiruni carried to Galileo.

E. Socially-connected people

• man is a social being

F. Science can redirect the course of technological abuse.

case in point: Nuclear weapons have saved the world from global wars.

V. Conclusion

It is an argumentative topic
Follow the proper structure of attempting argumentative topic