The current dynamics of security situation of Pakistan are posing serious threats to diplomatic relation between Pakistan and Afghanistan. Despite numerous meaningless talks with Kabul, Islamabad unwillingly conducted a series of airstrikes on Tahreek-i-Taliban's sanctuaries in Barmal district of Paktika in Afghanistan on December, 24, 2024. There is no denying the fact that Afghan Taliban has been providing conducive environment to (TTP) for sparking violence.

“The proscribed Tahreek-i-Taliban Pakistan is now the largest terrorist group in Afghanistan, enjoying operational and logistical support from Afghan Taliban” — UN monitoring Report. The report clearly highlights Kabul's involvement in Pakistan's crumbling security situation. The state should continue meaningful talks with Afghan government, which can build cordial relationship between two Islamic countries.
