

Elections are the only solutions to multi-pronged problems in Pakistan

Outline

1- Introduction

Thesis statement: Undenably, elections are the solution to multi-pronged problems in Pakistan. But, another school of thought believes otherwise; however, the given evidences are not substantive. Therefore, it is beyond any doubt that elections are the only solution to multi-pronged problems in Pakistan.

2- A glance at multi-pronged problems of Pakistan

3- Elections are the solutions to multi-pronged problems in Pakistan

- a) Free and fair elections on the time strengthen supremacy of the constitution
- b) Growing political instability can be contained by elections
- c) Elections promote democratic form of the government
- d) Elected government can reforms economic sector of the country
- e) Elections stabilize the institutions of the country

4- Elections are not only the solution to multi-pronged problems in Pakistan

- a) Supremacy of the constitution is permanent to guard the state

- b) Effective co-operation and collaboration among political parties leads to peaceful politics
- c) Public awareness is a tool of democratic government
- d) Economic sector needs sufficient resources for development
- e) Institutions of the country serve for the sake of the state

5- Elections are the only solution to multi-pronged problems in Pakistan

- a) Elections have constitutional protection for the state authority
- b) Political instability at peaks can only be discouraged by electoral process
- c) Political awareness of voters drives democracy
- d) Peoples representation allocate human and natural resources to boost economy
- e) Elections strengthen the institutional performance

6- Conclusion

A.G:

According to the research by Pew Research Centre, "The only way out of political and other turmoil in Pakistan is free and fair elections." (Pew Research Centre, 2023). Has Pakistan caught in multi-pronged problems? The above statement