Ancient ways of communicating with gods. The complex nature of life and universe forced humans to communicate with god. Understanding the desires of god helped in shaping human behaviour. In ancient times priests were gifted with special qualities to interpret instructions from gods. The priests conveyed message of god by understanding signs of the nature, by translating dreams or reading ~~for~~ palms. Sometimes the gods communicated directly to a medium. The priest conveyed the message by being possessed by the spirit of god. These practices were used to predict future. Each priest had a special temple dedicated to one or two gods through which they communicated with humans.
