

ABSTRACT ESSAY.

TOPIC. NOT ALL WHO WANDER ARE LOST.

~~The~~

1- Introduction

The quote "Not all who wander are lost" suggest a positive perspective on the act of wandering. Purposeful wandering can lead to self-discovery and personal growth, whereas, lost wandering can lead to negative consequences.

2. Examining the Quote.

- a) Explanation of quote's significance
- b) Different perspective of the quote.

3. The Essence of Wandering

- a) Meaning of the Quote
- b) Different aspects of Wandering
- c) ~~Is there~~ a Wandering with respect to the quote.

4. Wandering leads to self-discovery.

- a) Purposeful Wandering
- b) The mind which 'ponders' also wander.
- c) Example of Sufis, Monks and Buddha.
- d). Reference of the book "The Alchemist" by Paulo Coelho.

"Where there's a way there is a will."

Self-

5. Aimless Wandering leads to destruction.

a) Is aimless wandering, Roaming?

b) Wandering without a goal leads one to stray / downfall.

c) Reference of the books 'The picture of Dorian Gray' by Oscar Wilde and 'Waiting for Godot' by Samuel Beckett.

6. Wandering in Modern Era.

a) Physical Wandering.

i) Global Immigration. (social and cultural).

b) Technological / Digital Wandering.

i) Aimless browsing.

ii) Research and discoveries.

c) Psychological Wandering.

i) overthinking / daydreaming.

ii) Pondering and deep thinking.

7. Navigating the fine line between Wandering and being lost.

8. Conclusion