Every Era brings such conditions which are of no one's like but these have to be accepted. Some times it also happens that perhaps nature, in order to test us, put such things before us which are of no use of us, in fact it does not belong to us still we have to live making it a part of our life. It is happening today as well. Every century brings some challenges changes with its self which are quite new compare to the past centuries. Behavioural education and art progress has given human many such things which can be dedicated as the waste of education and economic process. Nature provides us fruit but at the same time it limits us that its peels should be properly disposed. If it is not done then environmental containment/ pollution increases.

"Human communication with Divine"

The human communication with divine has interpreted God's will to collect guidance for human behaviour. In ancient Greece, the signals of God were decoded by Oracles and soothsayers. These soothsayers interpreted natural processes and analyzed sacrifices to collect messages. Along with this, interpretation of dreams and palmistry were popular too. However, there were instances when God directly spoke to intermediaries sent by him in the form of prophet. Who then delivered the messages of divine to the people. Ancient Greek Oracles, connected to the God, operated in an organized form to forecast the future. Apollo conveyed mortal decisions taken by Zeus with the assistance of Dodona, to Delphi for announcement.
