

Essay: If Gold rusts, what shall iron do?

OUTLINE:

1- Introduction

Thesis statement: If an exceptional thing is worthless, what will help to an average or a normal thing. Everything starts at the upper level. Depravity on part of superior leads to pervasion of the whole.

2. If precious ~~thing~~ ones deteriorate, what can be expected from worst ones.

3. Individual's standards of excellence and perfection at the top hierarchy lead to stability at lower level.

a- Sincerity and love in citizen's heart for his country set example for expatriates b- Morality and ethics define an individual's character.

c- Honest and pious man serves as a role model for rank and file.

d- Children imitate parents' actions

e- Inner passion inspires external actions.

f- Saint's misconduct give new grounds to a common man.

4- Profession and society committing individual in corrupt or authentic practices.

a- Unethical manners of an educated person justifies ignorant's uncouth behaviour

b- Conservation mindset of society obstructs resocialization and change.

c- Elite's frugality rationalizes poor's thriftiness.

d- Death of qualified educators vindicates students' incompetence.

e- Lack of freedom of speech at domestic level paves the way for no expression at governmental level.

5- Broader factors underscoring the necessity of upper level.

a- ~~Urban~~ Poor living conditions of urban areas show just cause for rural destitute

b- Leader's actions determine nation's fate

c- Misuse of power demolishes the nation.

d- Ruler's actions are mirrored in populace actions

e- Religious misinterpretation dictates individual's sins.

f- Incessant environment degradation cannot wipe out with mere resolution of developing countries.

6. Conclusion