

Human rights are the first casualty in any conflict

Outline

1- Introduction

Thesis statement: In geo-political competition of the world, human rights are the first casualty. Massive human casualties, infra-structure loss, and refugee crisis etc are few among evidences. However, some rational steps will safeguard human rights avoiding global conflicts.

2- A bird's eye view on human rights violation in global conflicts

3- Manifestation of global conflicts

- Ongoing Russia-Ukraine conflict on strategic importance
- Dispute over Kashmir between India and Pakistan
- Historic - Palestine - Israel war
- China-Taiwan conflict on 'One-China Two system' policy

4- Violation of human rights in global conflicts

- Massive human casualties and brutal practices
- A huge infra-structure loss threatening livelihoods
- Surging refugee crisis in the world
- Decrease expenditure on human development

START FORM HERE

- e) Agricultural decline causing food insecurity
- f) Global health challenges threatening humanity
- g) Rise of extreme nationalism
- h) Ideological and separatist movements
- i) Resurgence of terrorism at global level

5- Proactive measures to safeguard human rights avoiding global conflicts

- a) Strengthen global humanitarian institutions to protect human rights
- b) Engage in diplomatic efforts to solve conflicts peacefully
- c) Foster economic relations through trade
- d) Co-operate and collaborate on global terrorism

6- Conclusion

A.G:

"In a globalized world, countries are more in competition regarding politics, economic, and strategic resulting a great humanitarian loss." (Thomas Friedman - The World is Flat, 2005).

This statement highlights the global conflicts, which lead to human casualties.