

Q- Define primitive economic system, its scope and relevance with anthropology.

Answer outline

- Intro
- Definition of economic system
- components of Economic system
- Primitive economic system
- scope
 - (a) Production system
 - (1) Means of subsistence
 - (2) Food foraging vs food producing societies
 - (b) Exchange / Distribution system
 - (1) Reciprocity / Barter system
 - Definition
 - Example
 - Importance of Exchange
 - Forms of Reciprocity
 - (2) consumption of goods
 - (1) For sustenance of societies
 - (2) For maintenance of societies
- Relevance with Anthropology:
 - (1) Evolution of economic system
 - (2) To study basic means of production/^{distribution +} consumption of goods
 - (3) To understand primitive economic system better.
 - (4) To derive theories in economy such as formalism, substantivism, marxism
 - (5) To devise laws for future

Q - Is poverty the real cause of over population or is it population pressure -

(Answer outline)

- Introduction
- Definition of overpopulation
- causes of overpopulation
 - ① Poverty
 - ② Unemployment
 - ③ Increased Fertility Rates
 - ④ Decreased Mortality Rates
 - ⑤ Increased Health facilities
 - ⑥ Poor Family Planning
 - ⑦ Prevailing illeracy leading to increased population
 - ⑧ Increased immigration
Decreased emigration
- conclusion.

(Kindly guide as I am unsure of the answer outline.)