2 Purposeful Education or Education and Moral development

These are three schools of thoughts regarding the matter of education; ~~but~~, the author disregards ~~third~~ one the most, as it supports Rousseauism or Individualism.

The followers of this school hold a view that purpose of education is to provide an environment of liberty and independent will in order to ensure spontaneous growth. According to author, his view is totally wrong as the principles of morality, self-restraint and intellectuality cannot be acquired independently. Moreover, education is not only a source of growth, but also a tool for moral, mental and social development, which cannot
