

Example 1

Q: Rewrite the following dialogue, written in direct speech, in a paragraph form. (CSS 2018)

Jack: Hello, Swarup! Swatting away as usual. Come out, man; shut up your old books, and come and have a game of tennis.

Swarup: I am sorry I cannot do that, Jack. The examination is drawing near, and I want every hour I can get for study.

Jack: Oh! Hang all examinations! I do not worry about mine. What is the use of them, anyway?

Swarup: Well, you can't get a degree if you don't pass the examination; and I have set my heart on being a graduate.

Jack: And pray what good will graduation do you? You may get a clerkship in a government office; but that's all, and there are hundreds of fellows who have got their degrees, and are nearer getting jobs of any sort.

Swarup: That may be so; but I am not studying so much to pass my examination and obtain my degree, as to store my mind with knowledge and develop my intellectual faculties.

Jack greeted Swarup and found him reading his books. He asked him to close his books and play tennis. Swarup apologized Jack as he wanted to study for upcoming exams. Jack cursed Swarup about examination as he did not worry about his. Jack considered them useless. Swarup argued that he could not get a degree without passing the examination and he wanted to be a graduate. Jack ~~explained~~ ridiculed that graduation could do nothing but you might get a clerkship or even not any job. Swarup replied that he is more concerned about gaining knowledge and developing intellectual faculties than to get a degree.
