

Economy or politics: Pakistan's conundrum

Outline

1- Introduction

These statement: No doubt, Pakistan's conundrum is deep-rooted in politics. But, another school of thought believes otherwise; however, the given evidences are not substantive. Therefore, it is beyond any doubt that politics is a huge conundrum of Pakistan.

2- A glance at current scenario of political conundrum of Pakistan

3- Politics is main conundrum of Pakistan

- Incomplete tenure of premier since inception
- Powerful control over free press by political leaders
- Institutional breakdown interfering in politics
- Arrest of several political leaders
- Indulgence in corruption has permeated to every tier of government

4- Economy is a major conundrum of Pakistan

- Fragile economic sector since its creation
- Surge in economic meltdown because of balance of payment crisis
- Brain drain as a limitless loss of Pakistan

- d) Unprecedented trade deficit has put Pakistan at stake
- e) Tremendous rise of debt on Pakistan

5- Politics is mainly a big conundrum of Pakistan

- a) Bad era of parliamentary democracy in Pakistan
- b) Exploitation and misinformation through media for politicking
- c) Judicial review in political affairs decreased public trust
- d) Massive public protest against opposition party
- e) Delay of free and fair election process

6- Conclusion

