

Instruction in youth is like engraving stone

Outline

Introduction

II. Youth, the backbone of any nation

III. Role of educated youth in development of any nation

A. Social development

B. Economic progress of any nation

C. Political stability and establishment of true democracy

D. Moral education of nation

E. Establishment of rule of law and improvement of security situation of a country.

F. Technological development and promotion of research and development.

III. Harmful implications of uneducated youth on any country

- A. Increase in terrorism and extremism
- B. Poor human development index,
- C. Increase in gender discrimination
- D. Poor social and economic indicators

IV Condition of youth in Pakistan

- A. Youth bulge and brain drain
- B. Excessive unemployment
- C. Illiteracy, huge number of out of school children and dropouts.

Conclusion

Malala Yousafzai, a young girl from Swat, Pakistan, materialized her ambition to study and change the state of girls despite endless hurdles along her way.

She ended up becoming the advocate of girls' education worldwide. She is also recipient of Nobel peace prize for her endeavours against Taliban. This young girl causes significant impact in the world.

Similarly, if the youth of any country is educated and vibrant, the peace, prosperity ^{and success} follow through.

Youth is an important segment of any society and being the future of any country, it plays significant role in development of country. Investing in education means investing in the future of a country.

^{Educated} Youth plays important role in social development, economic prosperity and political stability. Education shapes the