Essay (Introduction)

Topic: Brain Drain

In the small town of Harmonyville, many people died because of the departure of their best and skilled doctor Anna. Due to lack of career opportunities, she left her small town and went to Europe for a better future and lifestyle. As a result, the impacts of her departure were felt not just in her vacant clinic but in the fading health and vitality of a town that had lost its healing hands. This is the importance of high skilled and brilliant personalities. Unfortunately, same storylines are seen in Pakistan on a daily basis. Lack of infrastructure, political uncertainty, poor quality of life, educational concerns and career prospects are the causes of brain drain which are as a result affecting countries' economy and overall progress. Therefore, unless the issue of brain drain is addressed properly, a country can neither become prosperous nor developed. It is high time for Pakistan to address the issue of brain drain because it's not the quantity, it's quality that matters.
