

1- Define globalization.

Globalization is a process in which economic, political and cultural ties are fostered to develop a global society. In this, developed and developing countries contribute to internationalize their production and labour, making a global market.

2- What is electronic mass communication?

Electronic mass communication refers to the use of television, social media and other electronic means to increase the number of audience. It has major contribution in developing a global society because it spreads information easily across the world.

3- What does the term Third World denote?

The term "Third World" denotes countries that are either underdeveloped or developing economically. Such countries are striving to develop their economies by following the trends of globalization.

4- What is privatization?

Privatization refers to the transfer of state-owned enterprises or assets to private sector. It enhances the competition and attracts investment from private companies in previously state-owned industries. Privatization is an effective way to manifest globalization.