

Universal Human Equality is Utopia

I. Introduction

Human equality is a dream that seems difficult to achieve due to several social, political, economic and religious factors.

II. Debunking the term "Human Equality"

III. Universal Human Equality is Utopic Notion in Contemporary World

1. Climate injustice and fund disparities

- Countries emitting lower CO₂ facing higher consequences

2. Divide between rich and poor

- Richest 1% has most of global wealth share

3. Gender Inequality

- Gender gap is at 68%.

4. Religious Inequality

- Intolerance against other religions; Islamophobia is the result

5. Immigrants lack equal treatment as citizens

8. Biased interventions of peace organizations

day/date

during war and conflict

- UN role in Israel-Palestine war

7. Ethnic groups deprived of their rights
→ Dalits in India, Roma populations in Eastern Europe

8. Violation of fundamental human rights
- Ongoing wars

9. Digital divide
- Unequal access to world

10. Racial discrimination
- Black vs White

11. Geopolitical dynamics
- Unfair trade politics, recent hike in oil prices

12. Educational disparities

IV. Efforts towards ~~achieving~~ ^{Minimize} Human Inequality

1. Restructuring international organizations

2. Strengthen international law to not let countries compromise it.

3. Social media campaigns for awareness and importance of equality.

V. Conclusion

day/date

"Equality is the soul of liberty; there is, in fact, no liberty without it".

~ Frances Wright

There is no denying the fact that human equality is really important for ~~balance~~ progress of humanity. Unfortunately, the world has not been able to attain human equality. In fact, the concept seems like a distant dream.

There are several political, economic, social and religious factors ~~that~~ to prove that human equality is utopic. In the contemporary world, climate injustice and fund disparities are very high. The divide between rich and poor is also an important aspect that contributes toward human inequality. Gender inequality is prevailing in society. It is one of the oldest form of inequalities to exist in world.

Religious intolerance has a major part to play in this aspect as well. Apart from that, mostly the immigrants do not get equal treatment as local citizens. International organizations have also been biased during war and conflicts. A number of ethnic groups are also not getting their rights in several countries.

The fundamental human rights despite of being part of constitution of every country in the world are ^{being} violated at large scale. In the era of technology, digital divide exists across the globe. Education and racial discrimination also plays a major role towards inequality. To minimize this human equality, ~~and to achieve for humans~~ there are several steps that need to be taken.

/date

There is a need to restructure international organizations. International law has to be strengthened. Social media campaigns can also play a huge role in this regard. Although human equality seems to be a distant dream, several measures can be taken in order to minimize this inequality.