

Date: _____

Criminal neglect of child labour and its consequences

Outline

1. Introduction

Child labour remains a serious global phenomenon. Moreover, the criminal neglect of child labour perpetuates systemic exploitations inflicting severe harm on children's development. However, addressing this issue requires multifaceted approaches to tackling this problem.

2- Overview of criminal neglect in child labour

3- Causes of criminal neglect in child labour

- Limited employment opportunities for adults might push families to engage children in work.
- Societies normalize child labour as <sup>part of</sup> their culture.
- Poorly formulated laws regarding child labour.
- In global industries with complex supply chains allowing exploitation to occur unnoticed.
- Corruption within regulatory bodies or among law enforcement officials can lead to negligence.

4- Consequences of criminal neglect in child labour

- Child labour often leads to physical health repercussions.
- Children forced into labour endure psychological trauma.
- Child labour disrupts formal education which leads to illiteracy.

Date: _____

- d) Child labour deprives children of their right to a carefree childhood.
- e) Child labour hampers their ability to secure better employment opportunities in the future.
- f) Child labour perpetuates the cycle of poverty.
- g) Children working in exploitative conditions are at higher risk of being trafficked due to their vulnerability and lack of protection.
- h) The long term economic consequences of child labour are substantial.

5- Way forward for preventing the criminal neglect of child labour.

- a) Implement and enforce stringent laws and policies against child labour.
- b) Launch widespread campaigns to educate communities about the importance of education of children.
- c) Establish support system for at risk-families to alleviate poverty driven child labour.
- d) Foster collaboration and international in combating child labour globally.

6- Conclusion

Date: _____

Introduction

"Child labour and poverty are inevitably bound together and if you continue to use the labor of children as the treatment for the social diseases of poverty and child labor to the end of time."

(Grace Abbott)

Grace Abbott in these lines narrates the bad consequences of child labour. Moreover, he quotes that child labour never end the poverty rather, it increase the poverty in the world. Limited employment opportunities for adults might push the child for labor, societies normalize the culture of child labor and global industries supply chain and corruption within authority contribute to increase child labor in any country. Despite its urgency it remains criminal neglect of child labor and create bad very frightful consequences in the society. it disrupts the physical and mental health of children. Moreover, child labour induce psychological trauma disrupts formal education and deprive them to a carefree childhood.

Date: _____

Furthermore, it hampers their ability to secure better employment, create cycle of poverty, and exploitative conditions create higher risk for their trafficking, and result arise into form of long term economic consequences. How to prevent this problem there is dire need to implement and enforce laws against child labor, launch campaign to educate people, establish support system for poor families and foster international collaboration in combating child labor globally. Child labor remains a serious global phenomenon. Moreover, the criminal neglect of child labor perpetuates systemic exploitations, inflicting severe harm on children's development. However, addressing this issue requires multifaceted approaches to tackling this problem.

Industry In Pakistan

contributed 12.4% to the GDP in 2022.
Pakistan is 5th largest supplier of child labour

Date: _____

Conclusion

In conclusion, due to unemployment, social issues and child labour, corruption and globally exploitation of children may cause the child labour in the world. That's why it remains most criminal neglected case and give harmful and physical consequences. This scenario creates a cycle where lack of education and exploitation at a young age rob children of their potential to break free from poverty. Without education, they often remain trapped in low paying, unskilled labour, perpetuating the cycle of poverty for future generations. Addressing child labour requires multifaceted approaches to tackle poverty at its roots. This involves implementing policies that support education, awareness of people about the importance of children education and help the poor or needy families through the international collaboration.

It is never too late to pledge for a new change to create a new tomorrow. where there is a will there is always a way regardless of the obstacles and hindrances we can definitely achieve our goals.

(Larib Shabbir Isb 06-32)