It is imperative to know
To know our hidden flaws, it is imperative to know ~~what~~ our enemies think about ~~ourselves~~. Often, our friends praise us <sup>in the way</sup> as we like. Initially, they do not consider our flaws in a serious way or avoid telling us about our flaws lest it may hurt our feelings, or they ignore them deliberately. On the contrary, our enemy has the habit of splitting the hairs, and make mountain out of the molehill. A friend always promotes the virtues of his friend whereas an ~~an~~ enemy highlights the flaws which contains ~~a~~

Some reality. Therefore, we should be ~~more~~ grateful to our enemy because he informs us about our weaknesses. In this context, an enemy proves <sup>to be</sup> better than a friend.
