

Essay Outline

Saniya Khan
(127)

'Self-Righteousness and Conflicts in the Global Arena.'

1 → Introduction

The conflicts in the global arena are mainly driven by the self-righteous nature of major powers who seek to implement their ideology on certain states leading to an eruption of conflicts

2 → Defining Self-Righteousness in the perspective of Global Powers

3 → Self-Righteousness breeding Conflict

- a) Imposing a Specific Set of Beliefs
- b) Adopting a rigid stance towards other cultures and ideologies

Add few more arguments here

↳ Delving into the History of Conflicts Bred by Self-Righteousness

- a) Case Studies of Religious Conflicts like the Thirty Years War (1618-1648) and the Religious Crusades.
- b) Case Study of British Colonialism leading to Revolutions in America and France.
- c) Case Study of World War II: Hitler's Self-Righteous Narrative for a Greater Germany
- d) The Cold War Ideological Dilemma

↳ Analyzing the Contemporary Conflicts

- a) Case Study of the U.S as the biggest Self-Righteous Superpower Creating conflicts through interventions

- b) The Ideological Conflict of Israel and Palestine
- c) The Territorial dispute of Russia - Ukraine
- 6) The Influence of Media in Shaping Self-Righteous narratives:
A Post-Modernist Approach
- 7) Strategies for Overcoming Self-Righteous Behavior in Global Arena
 - a) Inculcating a Sense of Pluralism in the World
 - b) Acknowledging Cultural Diversity
 - c) Using Diplomacy as a tool to Mitigate Conflicts.
- 8) Conclusion: Self-Righteousness as a Cause of Conflicts.