

Topic: Education makes people easy to lead,
but difficult to drive, Easy to govern,
but impossible to slave

Outline:

1- Introduction

2. How does education makes people easy to lead?

a) Mindset of educated individual is critical

Example: Scientists/Scholar like Galileo made contributions to astronomy

b) Educated people are willing to take initiatives

c) Educated people can articulate their vision clearly

Example: Nelson's Mandela's commitment to achieve non-racial South Africa

d) Educated individuals have ability to innovate.

3- How does education makes people difficult to drive

a) Education makes people less susceptible to being oppressed

Casestudy: Finland's education system serves as a model to resist oppression

b) Educated nations can stand against mafias

c) Educated Individuals are well aware of their rights

Case study: The education system in the US emphasizes the rights guaranteed by the constitution and other laws.

d) Educated individuals are capable of managing social stress.

Case study: Singapore has introduced initiatives to support student's mental well-being.

4. How does education makes people easy to govern.

a) Educated people respect the rule of law.

Case study: Italy's education system emphasizes civic education and rule of law.

b) Education promotes social cohesion in Government institutions.

c) Educated people utilize their Professional skills in making public policies.

d) Educated people are more likely to participate in community services.

Case study: Education system in Japan emphasizes on moral and social education.

5. How does education make people impossible to enslave

a) Educated nations can stand against mafias.

Case study: Italy's education system integrates anti-mafia education into curriculum to promote values of legality and justice.

b) Educated mindsets are less prone to social evils

Case study: Norway puts a strong emphasis on education with a robust social welfare system.

(c) Educated people are more likely to question authority about their misuse of power.

Case study: Freedom of Expression in the United States of America

(6) Way forward: Strategies to promote education all across the world

a) Use of technology to improve education system is necessary.

b) It is important to raise awareness about the importance of education among masses.

c) Developed states should provide scholarships to under-developed countries

7) Conclusion: