

Burden of Heavy Taxes.

The current situation in Pakistan is extremely challenging because people are suffering under the burden of heavy taxes. Middle-class and low-class have become the victims of these taxes which are imposed by the government with the consultation of International Monetary Fund (IMF). There are certain conditions which are given by IMF for next bailout. Unwillingly, Pakistan has to acquiesce the conditions. The main part of the conditions is to implement taxes on agriculture and other sectors of the country. This has added the fuel in the fire because people have already been suffering from dire situation. There is no doubt that government would try to introduce new policies and reforms so that Pakistan can move towards stability. Currently, government has announced to give temporary respite from the latest hike. As a matter of fact, nothing will happen if the government is adopting the same strategy of previous governments to control the anger of people. Therefore, it is dire need to assess every aspect in detail. Also, everyone should be equally taxed irrespective of their status. By doing this, government can achieve its targets.
