Title: Benefits and need for preservation of green spaces.

Green Spaces are source of comfort in busy and noisy cities. They are home to wildlife, which helps in preserving the environment. Along with this, parks are great places for people to spend their time. Many cultural events also take place here. They help in improving environment which engenders a healthy atmosphere for people. Nonetheless, there is struggle in balancing the urban development with preserving environment. Parks should be made and maintained with aim to achieve balance between urban progress and environment preservation.
