English Precis:

title is written at the top not the end

According to the author, climate can affect the way we conduct our lives. A man living in colder part of the world usually exhaust his energies in trying to keep himself warm. In northern Europe, one has to procure much needed resources like warm clothes, food and firewood. Whereas, this is not the case in hotter parts of the world, where one can sustain easily without worrying very little about it. But, cold weather can challenge us and make us stronger. It is evident that climate can affect the way we live. People are generally lazy during summer seasons, and more agile and hardworking during the cold season.

Title: Interconnected:
nature of climate and human life.
