

Essay:

Crisis of good governance in Pakistan: Need for reforms and institution building.

Out line:

1- Introduction:

Thesis Statement:

Governing system of Pakistan has been grappling with a number of crisis. Many reforms need for betterment of the country and for stability of the institutions.

2- Which factors are including to demolish the governing system of Pakistan:

- (i) Lot of corruption from upper to lower level in every institution.
- (ii) No check and balance of authorities on institutional machinery.
- (iii) Use of political powers against bureaucracy by feudals and land-lords.
- (iv) Lack of interest and lack of honesty of officers in their work.

(v) Praise system is also involve in bad governing system of Pakistan.

(vi) Involvement of other powerful institutions in governing institutions, and blackmailing process against officials is responsible of bad governing system.

3- Which reforms require for the betterment of the institutions of Pakistan:

(i) Maintain the law and order, and implementation of sentences against culprits.

(ii) Empower the Judiciary of Pakistan and Justice system for rapid results of institutional building.

(iii) Politicians who use political powers against officials of institutions should be answerable.

(iv) Every institutions should be independent in their official matters.

(v) Every institution should be aware about their powers and boundaries.

Do not write should be
should be

4. Why Pakistan need reforms and institutional building in governance system:

- (i) For the stability of the country Pakistan need reforms and institutional building.
- (ii) people of Pakistan have lost their trust on the governing system.
- (iii) For increasing the reputation on international level reforms in governing system are much needed.
- (iv) Set the boundaries of institutions and set the rule and law for the institutions are more needed.

5- Conclusion:

'Good governance is a key of good state'. Since 1947 Pakistan facing governance crisis and this is the main factor which slow down the growth process of Pakistan. Every state grows when its governing machinery show honesty with their work. ~~Number~~ of ill are including ~~in~~ ~~bad~~ ~~governance~~ ~~system~~ and ~~number~~ of reforms need for the betterment of the country. Pakistan need those leaders who are sincere to the country because roots of ill weakening the internal structure of the country and internally weak building collapse rapidly. Corruption is only thing which is enough for the devastation of any nation and in Pakistan's scenario corruption, no law and order, ~~dishonesty~~ and more are eroding the country. It is necessary to take some critical and rapid actions against these problems for the national interest. It is time to make the trust more powerful of the people of the country.

Concluding Paragraph:

Hence, bad governing system and corrupt elements in country slow down the process of growth if authorities will take rapid actions and make some reforms then Pakistan will grow rapidly. On the international level Pakistan will take back its losted reputation. The people of the country will believe on their leaders and regard them. Everyone will be able for Education, Justice and fundamental rights. People will live ideal life and everyone will love their country their leaders.

Avoid writing such lengthy grammatically confused statement