Akbar's Rule: Spread of False Image of Islam:

Sheikh Ahmed Sirhindi was keen to bring reform of Islam in the sub continent, especially during the Mughal rule of Akbar. Akbar's false spreading of Deen-e-Allahi to Muslims was bringing them back from Islamic teachings. As of Deen-e-Allahi had done great damage to Islamic teachings. Ulama's were spreading false image of Islam telling them that liquor and gambling is "halal" in Islam which is actually prohibited in Islam. Hajj was not considered as third pillar of Islam. Hindus abolished mosques in the subcontinent. These all negative narrations against Islam had put great damage to Islamic teachings. According to Sirhindi, it was "The Age of Islamic poverty".

~ Sheikh Ahmed Sirhindi

Sheikh Ahmed's letter to Jahangir:

Sheikh Ahmed was very diligent to bring reforms in the subcontinent. Owing to this, he wrote letters to Mughal Emperor Jahangir in which he highlighted the false portraying image of Islam to peoples. But, Jahangir did not bring any reform and somehow he got imprisoned to Sheikh Ahmed Sirhindi for two years.

Reforms of Sheikh Ahmed Sirhindi in Imprison:

After Jahangir's dictation, Sheikh Ahmed was imprisoned for two years. During his imprisonment, he preached Islam and thousands of peoples accepted Islam as a Deen. When Jahangir knew about his reforms in the imprisonment, he gave him a gift of 100 rupees and also awarded him with title "Khilat-e-Fakhira".

He sent them to different countries to spread Islam and gave this knowledge of Islam to other peoples. Under his teachings and disciples many peoples in other countries also accepted Islam.

Sheikh Ahmed's Reform of wahadat-ul-Shahood against wahad-ul-wajood:

Mohayudin - Ibn-e-Arabi, at that time gave peoples the concept of wahadat-ul-wajood. According to him; Allah is one and everything in the world belongs to him only either good or either bad. Objective as well as subjective. Sheikh

Ahmed Sirhindi was against this concept of wahad-ul-shajood. Therefore, he did reform in this and gave people's the concept of wahadat-ul-shahood. According to this concept; Allah is one and every spiritual thing belongs to him only. In this he clearly explains subjective things not objective that were made by peoples.

Bring Reforms in the teachings of Ulema's:

As of Deen-e-Sulahi of Akbar, taking the help of ulema and spreading the false narration of sunnah and Islam laws. Ulemas were of two types which were involving to portray the negative image. The first were with good innovations called Bidat-e-Hasnah. The second category of ulema's were with bad innovation, they were called as Bidat-e-Siyyah.

Both of the categories of uterms were not giving any benefit to the muslims in the spread of Islam.

“To consider Rum and Rehman as One, is of Stupidity. Because Creator cannot be One in his Creation.” ~ Sheikh Ahmed Sirhindi

Reforms of Sheikh Ahmed in the Governmental System:

That was very critical time for Muslim's which was observed by Sirhindi. The policies was not in favour of muslims such as "Deen-e-Mahis", high taxes, negative image of Islam. Considering that liquor and gambling was haram in Islam. owing to this Sheikh Ahmed wrote letters to kings in which he narrates that king should be free from all religious adulterations.
