

Point	Original Passage Contents	Point wise Pre'cis
1.	During my vacation last May, I had a hard time choosing a tour. Flights to Japan, Hongkong and Australia are just too common. What I wanted was somewhere exciting and exotic, a place where I could be spared from the holiday tour crowds.	The author was on vacation, and he was confused in choosing a tour. He wanted to visit somewhere entertaining and peaceful rather than flights to the countries that are too common to visit.
2.	I was so happy ... when John called up, suggesting a trip to Cherokee, a country in the state of Oklahoma.	The author's friend John suggested him a trip to Cherokee, a

Date: ___/___/0___

I agreed and went off with the preparation immediately. country in oklahoma. He planed to visit it happily.

3. We took a flight to cheokee and visited a town caued Qualla Boundary surrounded by magnificent mountain sceney. the town painted a paradise before us. with its Oconaluftee Indian Viilage repro- ducing tribal crafts and lifestyles of the 18th century and the outdoor historical peageant Unto These Hills playing six times weekly in the summer nights, Qualla Boundary tries to present a brief image of the 18th century. He inter- acted with a shopkeper

Date: ___/___/20___

image of the Cherokee
past to the tourists.

who
was good
at English.

Despite the language
barrier, we managed to find our way to the
souvenir shops with the help of the natives.

The shops were filled with rubber tomahawks and colorful traditional war bonnets,
made of dyed turkey
feathers. Tepees, cone-shaped tents made from animal skin, were also
pitched near the shops.

"Welcome! Want to get anything?" We looked up and saw a middle-aged man smiling at us. We were very surprised by his fluent English.

Date: ___/___/20___

4. He introduced himself as George and we ended up chatting till lunch time when he invited us for lunch at a nearby coffee shop. "Sometimes, I've to work from morning to sunset during the tour season.

The chatting between them was ended up with a lunch. The shopkeeper explained him about his work, its duration

Anyway, this is still better off than being a wood cutter.

Remembrance weighed heavy on George's mind and he went on to tell us that he used to cut firewood for a living but could hardly make ends meet.

We learnt from him that the cheerokees do not depend solely

Date: ___/___/20___

on trade for survival.

During the tour off-peak period, the tribe would have to try out other means for income.

5. One of the successful ways is the "Bingo weekends, a large bingo hall was opened, attracting huge crowds of people to the various kinds of games like the super jackpot and the warrior Game special. According to George, these forms of entertainment fetch them great returns. Our final stop in Quella Boundary was at the museum where arts, ranging from the simple

After this, the author watched various games and finally they went to a museum which was giving a cultural sense of Cherokee. Coming back to

Date: ___/___/0___

hand-woven oak
 baskets to wood
 and stone carvings of wolves, ravens and other symbols of Cherokee
 cosmology are displayed.

home, he
 missed the place and
 considered
 planning
 another
 trip.

Back at home, I really missed the place and I would of course look forward to the next
 trip to another exotic
 place.

First Draft

1. The author was on vacation, and he was confused in choosing a tour. He wanted to visit somewhere entertaining and peaceful rather than flights to the countries that are too common to visit.

2. The author's friend John suggested him a trip to Cherokee, a country in Oklahoma. He planned to visit it happily.

Date: / /

3- There they visited a town "Qualla Bandawj" which had a wonderful landscape, presenting a paradise before them. This town represented an antidiluvian image of the 18th century. He interacted with a shopkeeper who was good at English.

4. The chatting between them was ended up with a lunch. The shopkeeper explained him about his work, its duration.

5. After this, the author watched various games and finally they went to a museum which was giving a cultural sense of Cherokee. Coming back to home, he missed the place and considered planning another trip.

The author was on vacation, and he was confused in choosing a tour. He wanted to visit somewhere entertaining and peaceful rather than flights to the countries that are too common to visit. The author's friend John suggested him a trip to Cherokee, a country in Oklahoma. He planned to visit it happily. There they visited a town "Qualla Boundary" which had a wonderful landscape, presenting a paradise before them. This town represented an antidiluvian image of the 18th century. He interacted with a shopkeeper who was good at English. The chatting between them was ended up with a lunch. The shopkeeper explained him about his work, its duration and how he and other people earn to survive. After this, the author watched various games and finally they went to a

MON TUE WED THS FRI SAT
○ ○ ○ ○ ○ ○

Date: ___/___/20___

meuseum which was giving a cultural sense of cheokee.

Coming back to home, he missed the place and considered planing another trip.

