

Elections in India

India is a country which has a number of Population.

This country is number 1st in population ratio. More than one month has gone since elections is continue.

Former prime Minister Narendra Modi is announcing himself B.J.P will secure more than  $\frac{2}{3}$  majority in 2024 elections. What is the reason behind his statement. Actually India is a Hindu majority state.

Modi claims in his political campaigns he will prioritize Hindus after elections. He claims in political campaigns

India is a Hindu majority state he will make Akhand Baharat to India.

He claims Hindus are superior to other nations and Bharat is only for Hindus it is an agenda of Narendra Modi's political campaign.

Second one Narendra Modi raises slogans against Pakistan and rises the sentiments of people so that he may get vote. Third one he claims India will be a stronger economy in the world if he is elected as prime minister of India.

He makes a statement in political campaigns India will be made Asian tiger. He kept promise in his political motto he would suspend art 35A and 379 of the Indian constitution. But he did when he came into power.

These are biased motives of Narendra Modi which helps him in elections. That is why he is claiming more than  $\frac{2}{3}$  majority because he considers himself a nationalist leader. Now point is this if result of election is against him what he will do.

Either he will accept result or he will come to road.

Like Donald Trump. Another point about the progress of India and its strong economy Narendra Modi gets a credit to strengthen economy of ~~Pakistan~~ India. At this time India is a fifth <sup>largest</sup> ~~great~~ largest economy in the world.

That is why Narendra Modi has claimed he would strengthen economy of India and India would be Asian Tiger.
