

CSS 2012

Precis of Comprehension
Paragraph

Humans' Fear of Death

Humans' fear of death is like the children's fear of darkness. As children's fear increases by horror stories, humans' fear increases by knowing the pain of dying person. Similarly, considering death as punishment and start of another life is man's religious belief. While if he take it as divine principle and still afraid then it is his weakness. Although, some religious thoughts are based on false beliefs. Preachers explained punishments in religious books, which contribute more in death fear. According to Seneca; muzzling, yellow face, body movements of dying person and all death rituals is more fearful than it.

Words Count

Passage: Approx 270

Precis: Approx 90