

Paragraph 1

Baluchistan insurgency: Major threat to CPEC

Baluchistan insurgency is one of the major threat to the CPEC Project.

The attacks on transmission lines, carried out by BLA, TTP and other extremist organizations. As a result, these attacks not only affecting regional peace but also increasing instability in the region. Moreover, the extremist groups killing and kidnaping Chinese workers.

Further rising concerns about security issues. Thus, activities of separatist group posing major threat to the success of CPEC project.

Paragraph 2

Feminism; 1st wave

Feminism: movement; 1st wave holds a special importance in the history. The idea was born in 1840, when women of the era began to question about their rights like Lucretia Coffin Mott and Elizabeth Cady Stanton. However, the first wave of feminism received little support socially and religiously at that time. Contrary to this, women activist able to achieve the right for vote. In addition, the 19th Amendment played a major role in this victory. So, we can conclude Feminism 1st wave holds special importance in history.