

Areeha Aiman

Batch 058 online-NOA.

Evaluation: CSS 2022 English Precis.

Precis of the Passage:

The ancient Greek humans in the past, whenever, faced any mysteries of life that were difficult enough to solve, as compared to the vastness of this world. These people usually seek refuge in seeking guidance from the divine super powers to decode their wishes by the art of giving divine prophecies. According to these oracles, the lightening flash, direction of blowing wind, fire etc hold significances. In multiple events these gods speak directly to their worshippers showing humanely characters rather than being divine. The future foreseeing practices were also the mastered art of Greek oracles. Delphi was one of the famous oracles who delivers messages with the intervention of Apollo, and Dodona, with Zeus help.

Title of the Passage: "The Greeks belief in Oracles"

Total word count: 322

Precis word count: 115