

Sample Body Paragraph

Topic: Peace is an Elusive Dream.

Sub-Heading: Menace of wars imperils peace

Topic Sentence:

To begin with, one of the greatest threats to world peace is the menace of wars.

Explanatory Sentence:

Sadly, almost every country in the world has locked horns with another country on some issues, further deteriorating world peace.

Supporting Sentence:

In this murky situation, life has become what Thomas Hobbes once described as 'nasty, brutish and short'. Regrettably, there is a war of all against all or precisely people kill people.

Example:

For instance, China and USA are involved in a war just to set up their hegemony in the technological and economic fields.

Concluding Sentence:

In this climate of war, peace will always remain a pipe dream.